QUEENS MEETS MCGILL IN CRUCIAL GRIDIRON STRUGGLE TO-DAY

PRESBYTERIANS PROMISE TO BE STIFF PROPOSITION

RED AND WHITE SUPREMELY CONFIDENT

McGill will have several changes on the line-up when the Red and White takes the field against Queens today. Ross will be senior spare and his place will be taken by Guy Masson who has shown such sensational form in practices this week.

Masson will probably play left half and Billington be moved to centre. With George Murray holding down his old position at right half, this should be easily the strongest back division McGill has presented this season. It has fine speed and with the greatest kicking half back in Canada today should prove a steller combination. "Sink" McEvenue will take Ernie Paisley's place behind the scrimmage and from the form he has displayed in recent practices the team should be more like a machine than ever before. Timmins will replace Gartshore at middle wing but both the latter and Turnbull will be in the game against Toronto and strengthen up the left side of the line which seems to be the only weak spot on the team very considerably.

This week's practices have made it plain that the team, though steadily improving, is still weak in the departments mentioned in the criticisms of the Toronto game. The passing among the halves is still very loose and leaves a great deal to be desired and there is altogether too much indiscriminate passing which as often as not simply amounts to handing the ball over to the other side. There are very few cases in which any considerable gain would be made even if the pass were perfect and it is altogether too dangerous a game to indulge in when the opposing side is bunched around as is usually the case in misplays of this kind. The back division is still weak on backing each other up on catches; one man only is there with the result that 9 times out of 10, a fumble means loss of the ball and the full length of the kick. Another bad fault on Saturday was the backs colliding with each other, which caused more than one fumble.

The flying half should not drop back to receive the kicks but should stay up on the line and let the three backs cover the line. The reason that Murray was able to get away with so many fine runs last year was because Forbes and Bignall smothered the opposing right outside wing so effectively, that he was seldom or never down under the kicks. If McGill adopts these tactics today there will be no collisions among the back field and Heckie's kicking will not be nearly as effective as it might otherwise be.

The rumor that Dan Gillmor is to take full charge of the team as coach for the remainder of the year is a very welcome one and it is to be sincerely hoped that it will soon be officially confirmed. Lack of efficient coaching has been one of the hardest things we have had to contend with in the past and all who have seen the Toronto team during the last two years realize what can be accomplished along these lines; good coaching will strengthen the team enormously and every McGill man who has the interests of the team at heart will be glad to see Dan in charge. Here's hoping!

The Daily hopes that its readers will distinguish between criticism and knocking; the former is what we are here for; the latter should be and will be avoided like poison.

There was a report current in the papers yesterday that Captain Maynard of Varsity had been ordered by Honorary Coach, Dr. Wright to retire from the game for the rest of the season. The Daily feels sure that it is expressing the sincere hope of all McGill supporters when it wishes Captain Maynard a speedy recovery. We are confident that we can beat Toronto this year with their full team on, and we hope to see not only their star half back, but all their other injured players in the game on the 28th.

The teams will probably line up as follows:

McGill—Backs, Masson, Billington, Murray; quarter, McEvenue; scrimmage, Rodgers, Oliver, Savage; wings, Lewis, Timmins, Digby, Laing, Watcrous, Johnson.

Queen's—Backs, Leckie, MacDonnell, Hazlett, Dick; quarter, McNeal; scrimmage, Barker, Dunlop, Cochran; wings, Kinsella, Young, Erskine, Rodden, Smith, Cooke.

GREATEST SPORTS DAY IN MCGILL'S HISTORY SOPHOMORES WIN BY SMALL MARGIN

By the look of things at the M. A. A. grounds yesterday afternoon, that lonesome championship M. of Ken Dowie's is going to have some company after Thanksgiving Day. With the boys working as well as quarter, with Dowie repeating in the they did yesterday, at a conservative estimate we should land the intercollegiate championship by a margin of at least fifteen points.

In every event yesterday, with the exception of the 100 yards and the pole vaults, last year's times and distances in the intercollegiate were beaten.

Big MacDougall was easily the star performer, breaking the college record in the shot and discus and equalling the record for the hammer. Stanley also equalled the record for the hurdles. Two records broken and three equalled in one day is certainly going some.

The usual rough house between the Sophomores and Freshmen took place in the far end of the grand stand. Boots and caps were thrown out on the track before the sports started, beaten.

BIG FUNCTION AT P. C.

FRESHMEN THEOLOGICAL BANQUET

A most enjoyable time was spent by the Faculty and students of the Presbyterian Theological College on the evening of the 19th inst. at the College, the occasion of the annual banquet given by the Seniors to the Freshmen. Mr. Shea, the new steward, provided a menu which almost disorganized the theological future by its variety and excellence, delightfully served, and which reflected the utmost credit on his management. Humorous speeches were the order of the evening. The spirit of eloquence was in the air, and touched some of the Freshmen speakers into rhetorical flourishes which recalled the days of Demosthenes. The dominant note of the evening was the expression of the desire for a more intimate fellowship between Faculty and students, and for a united effort to make the ensuing term mark the beginning of a new era in the history of the College. Certain Waterloo-like struggles had resulted in revolutionary changes in the organization of the College, particularly in the dining-room—now one of the best equipped of any seminary in this country,—and an appeal was made to the student body to respond to the efforts of the Board to secure their material comfort. Reference was made to the completion of the Faculty by the appointment of the Rev. Prof. Johnson-Ross, a teacher and preacher of profoundest scholarship and Christian piety, an appointment which meant so much to the Presbyterian Church of Canada and to the intellectual and spiritual life of the College. The Faculty is now of a character to call forth the highest praise and admiration of friend and student, representing the very best of Canadian and Old Country scholarship. The College is indeed to be congratulated on the group of distinguished men it has gathered together. The speeches are too numerous to report, but appended are the names of the proposers of the various toasts and the answering speakers:—Mr. E. Corbett, '09 to the King; Mr. Logan, McGill Rhodes Scholar, to the Faculty, Dr. A. R. Gordon; Mr. D. McLeod, to the Alumni, Rev. E. Mewatt; Mr. Sinclair to the Freshmen theologians, Mr. Palmer; Monsieur Boquel, to the French students, Monsieur Peck; Mr. J. L. McInnis, '12, to the Freshmen Arts, Mr. MacKenzie, '14; Mr. F. J. Fowler, '14, to the Freshmen in Matriculation, Mr. Bumford. The speeches were all of a very high order. Mr. Marshall, '04 rendered in delightful fashion the rollicking Irish song, "Father O'Flynn," and was recalled for an encore. The Principal, Dr. Scrimger, and the members of the Faculty; Dr. Welsh, Dr. A. R. Gordon, Dr. Frazer, Dr. Bieler, and the Rev. Mr. Cruickshank, B.A.,—Dr. Ross being absent through a slight illness—addressed appropriate words to the some eighty students present.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

McGILL Y.M.C.A.

The hour after the church services on Sunday evening is one of the hardest to fill in of the whole week. For those men especially whose homes are not in the City there seems nothing special to do.

To fill, what has proved to be a need, the McGill Y.M.C.A., for the past two years has held Sunday evening "Sings" at that time. About 8.45 the men gather in the Reading Room of Strathcona Hall, where comfortable arm chairs are placed around a lighted wood fire,—a small orchestra is on hand, and about an hour is spent in singing the men's favorite hymns. Occasional special music is introduced and the evening is finished with some light refreshments. Everything is informal.

Last Session between 30 and 40 men gathered each Sunday evening for this purpose. An invitation is extended to all men in the University to come to Strathcona Hall next Sunday evening for the first of these "Sings."

HISTORICAL CLUB MEET

INAUGURAL ADDRESS BY DR. FRYER.—PAPERS BY MESSRS. YOUNG AND LINDSAY.

The opening meeting of the Historical Club for the season 1911-12 was held at Strathcona Hall on Thursday evening.

Dr. Fryer (in the absence of Dr. Colby) very kindly offered to deliver the inaugural address usually given by the Honorary President of the Club. Dr. Fryer chose as his subject "The World-Wide Movements of the Last Six Months."

"There has been more important history made in the last six months than has perhaps ever been made in the same period in the world's history." Such was the startling statement with which the speaker prefaced his remarks. "There has hardly been a country which has not been affected by these world-wide movements, and in many cases these movements have affected or will affect the whole future destiny of nations."

Dr. Fryer then went on to elaborate some of these movements. He instanced the changes which had been made in the constitutional powers of the House of Lords. It was felt by many people in England that the time was coming when the people would find that the House of Commons was as little needed as the House of Lords, and a system of representation by a commission would become the legislative body in Great Britain.

It was pointed out that there had been still another momentous movement in England in which the burning question between Labor and Capital had culminated in the enormous strike of last August.

The Orient too was making history very quickly. The internal struggle between the two parties in China was demanding the attention of the whole world today. Either the revolutionary party must win with the much expected result that China would become a force in the councils of the world, or the old regime must win, with the result that the re-organization of China would be set back for some time.

The Moroccan affair is important because of its bearing on the question of Law, certain nations in Europe shall provide colonies for their enormously increasing populations.

"The International Peace Movement in the United States," stated Dr. Fryer, "may become a power which shall influence the policies of nations, while the recent elections in Canada tell us that Canada has decided to be the controller of her own destinies—a decision which has immeasurable possibilities in shaping the future of the North American Continent."

Dr. Wells broached a scheme of interchanging speakers with the Historical Clubs of Harvard and Toronto. Details of this we shall announce later.

Mr. Young's paper on "Tariff Proposals of Mr. Chamberlain" and Mr. Lindsay's paper on Imperial Federation, met with a great reception.

A spirited discussion closed an interesting meeting.

McGILL MARITIME CLUB HOLDS SUCCESSFUL SMOKER

PREMIER BORDEN TO ADDRESS THE CLUB AT FIRST OPPORTUNITY

The McGill Maritime Club held its inaugural banquet and smoker at the Edinburgh Cafe on Thursday night, upwards of seventy-five members being present. From the standpoint of success, it surpassed any similar function of the kind held by the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Club in previous years, and showed conclusively that the amalgamation of the Club just mentioned with the Prince Edward Island Club and by embracing students from Newfoundland had increased the number in attendance, and the social spirit manifested by the members.

The vocal and instrumental music formed a strong programme in itself, while Mr. Pearson's song "hits" constituted a feature that appealed strongly to the meeting.

Speeches pungent with good fellowship and pointing to high moral and educational ideals were delivered by Principal Peterson, Dr. W. W. Chipman, honorary president of the Club; and Dr. Tait.

It was an evening long to be remembered, and resulted in greatly promoting social intercourse among the Club's members.

A dance under the auspices of the Club will probably be held as soon as satisfactory arrangements can be made, and early next term at the latest. It is the intention of the executive to plan a lavish dinner at which the Hon. R. L. Borden, one of the most distinguished sons that the Maritime Provinces have sent forth will be the guest of honor.

McGILL ORIENTAL SOCIETY INAUGURATES SEASON

At a meeting of the McGill Oriental Society held on Tuesday last, the following office-bearers for session 1911-12 were elected:—President, Prof. C. A. B. Brockwell, Head of the Oriental Department; Vice-President, Rabbi N. Gordon, Lecturer in Rabbinics in the Oriental Department; Secretary, Mr. Chas. E. Scrimgeour; Treasurer, Mr. T. J. McVittie.

The Rt. Rev. Dr. J. C. Farthing, Bishop of Montreal, was elected an Hon. Member of the Society. The following gentlemen were elected members of the Society, Dr. Blackader, Messrs. Linlemann, Powles, Bradbury, Naughton, Inns, Strowbridge, Kennedy, Findlay and Rattray.

This Society was inaugurated three years ago by Prof. Brockwell for the purpose of bringing together within the University representatives of all schools of thought with a view to reading and discussing papers on any questions connected with the culture and civilization of the ancient and modern Orient. The Society consists of three classes of members, Undergraduates, (subscription, $1.00) Graduates of McGill and of other universities, and Associate members, who though not Graduates have a special interest in the Orient or have traveled or lived there. (Sub. $2.50). The Society opens the present session with a total of 86 members, 43 Graduates, 25 undergraduates, 12 associate members, and 6 honorary members.

The Society meets on the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 8 p.m. in the Engineering Building, Room 37. Those interested in Oriental studies are cordially invited to attend; nominations for membership should be sent to the Secretary, 201 University St.

The first lecture will be delivered on Tuesday, Nov. 7th., the subject of this lecture and the syllabus for the session will be announced later.

The Mining Society will hold its first meeting on Wednesday, October 25th. Dr. A. E. Barlow will give an illustrated address on the Northern Gold Fields.

UNFORTUNATE EPISODE RESULTS IN CLASH WITH POLICE

Just before the student parade turned up from St. Catherine on its way to last night's song practice, there was a slight scrap with the arm of the law.

Owing to the confusion it is difficult to say who was to blame, but it is commonly believed that the police were a little hasty and made no allowances. Anyway an attempt to arrest three students was nipped in the bud and now Captain Baker of No. 10 station is suffering from a severe injury. Barring this episode there was nothing to mar the success of Sports Day. John Hackett was as usual right on the job to protect the students.

The scrap between the Freshies and Sophs at the M. A. A. grounds was hot enough while it lasted. As to results there was little to choose between the respective forces. Boots and shoes were quite freely distributed over the grounds.

R. V. C. BASKET BALL CAPTAINS ELECTED.

The class basket-ball captains for the session 1911-12 are as follows: Fourth Year—Miss Louise Manny. Third Year—Miss Kathleen Wilder. Second Year—Miss Edith Chauvin. First Year—Miss Lillie De Muth.

ALLIANCE FRANCAISE HOLDS MEETING IN THE R. V. C.

On Thursday evening, October 19th the Alliance Francaise met in the Royal Victoria College. The speaker for the evening was M. Gustave Lanson of the University of Paris, the author of several books on French literature, and one of the critical authorities of the time.

After a short introduction by M. Desaulniers, M. Lanson proceeded with his subject—"Rabelais." The audience, which was unusually large, was most appreciative, and for over an hour listened with great attention to M. Lanson's account of Rabelais, his works and his place and influence in French literature. Rabelais the "grand artiste," the great thinker, the man whose influence has affected all French literature from that day to this, yet who was always a "peasant of the peasants," was vividly brought before us, and we left the lecture with a new admiration and appreciation of the "Cure de Meudon."

CAMERA CLUB MEETING

The opening meeting of the Camera Club (Mining) was held on Thursday at 4 p.m. The officers elected were: Hon. President—Dr. J. B. Porter. President—S. Werner.

Hon. Vice-Pres.—Dr. A. E. Barlow. Vice-President—E. E. Billington. Secy. Treas.—D. A. S. Bell.

It was decided to have an album for photos taken on the mining trips and to make slides of the best of these. The excursion will be held on Sunday mornings. Prize competitions will be arranged later by the executive. The dues of the Club were set at fifty cents, club membership includes the use of the dark room and the privilege of attending the instructive lectures and excursions. Every miner of the third and fourth year should avail himself of this opportunity to become proficient in the taking of good photographs, which will be of great service in their later professional work.

AN UNDERGRADUATE MARRIED

The Daily is pleased to be able to congratulate Mr. James F. Grant of Med. '13 on his entrance into the ranks of the Benedicts. Mr. Grant was married to Miss Lena Hughes of Nanaimo a few weeks ago. The groom was supported by Mr. Hughes brother of the bride and the bridesmaid was Miss L. Grant. Owing to the fact that Mr. Grant is well-known throughout the University this news will be of interest to his many friends and well-wishers. Mr. Grant is an athlete of no mean reputation, having figured on last year's championship Harrier Team and the senior soccer aggregation which represented McGill in the intercollegiate.

Mrs. Grant is receiving on Mondays and Wednesdays between the hours of four and six.

WILL SPEAK ON

Practical Work

In Strathcona Hall

Sunday, 2.30

One of the Institutions of the City which is deserving of far more publicity and support than is given to it is the Charity Organization Society. It is the only institution which treats of cases of charity in a scientific manner. Those who apply for help are carefully investigated, and if found deserving are helped, otherwise due warning is given. Records of these cases are kept on file, and the general public by this means is saved from a great many impositions on the part of those who desire help. The Society believes that the Students of the University, who are interested in Social problems could be of great assistance to the following up cases which have been withdrawn. It would mean of investigation of the social problems of the City opportunity of service ly needed. Mr. Davis Maitland, Secretary of the Society in Strathcona Hall of noon at 2.30 explain which is being done a help which might be students. Mr. Maitland man and has had much such work.

but this was stopped on the start of the games and after that the students confined their efforts to giving their year yells.

The events started promptly at the scheduled time. The hundred yards race was won by Stanley, who beat the other five starters, Alberga, D. H. Welsh, H. L. Smith, and Young. Young beat the pistol by about two yards, which lead he retained up to the sixty yard mark. Hollinshead got away for a poor start but caught Stanley and Dakin at the 75 yard mark, winning by about a yard with Dakin second and Stanley third. Time 10 3-5 secs.

In the meantime the pole vault was being contested. First place in this went to MacKenzie, a new man this year at McGill and hailing from Charlottetown, P. E. I., the place where they grow pole vaulters. Smith and Robinson tied for second place, Smith getting the decision on the jump-off. Smith seems to be a little too heavy this year and with another week's training may do better in the Intercollegiate. Height of MacKenzie's jump was 9 ft. 4 inches.

The half mile was won handily by Logan, a returned Rhodes scholar and old McGill track man. Walsh made a good race during the first lap, but Logan proved too fast and he had to drop back to third place. White, a Freshman, cornering second. The time 2:01 was good considering the rather heavy track and Logan certainly will help greatly to strengthen the team as the half has been the weak point during the season.

Three entries in the mile race, the wet turf made the race very difficult. MacDougall was the lead which he retained until the stretch was reached, when Stanley came strong and passed him winning by eight yards. Dakin slowing down slightly just before the finish. Fraser was about 7 yards behind Dakin. All three ran a good race. Fraser was handicapped very much in this race by having the outside track and being compelled to run high up the bank practically all the way around the turn, thus cutting down his chances considerably.

Stanley, Dakin, Fraser and Hollinshead should make a relay team that will take some going to beat. Dowie once more shone in the broad jump, doing 20 ft. 11 1/2 inches. Second and third went to Risteen and McIntyre with jumps of 19 ft. 1/2 in. and 17 ft. 8 inches respectively.

Time 23 seconds.

The places in the running high jump went to MacKenzie, Risteen and Dowie in the order named. Height 5 feet, 5 inches.

Murray led all the way in the mile finishing with a good sprint for the last one hundred and fifty yards. Lowery followed Murray well for on lap, but was then passed by two Macdonald College men, one of whom, Young, beat the pistol by about two yards, which lead he retained up to the sixty yard mark. Hollinshead got away for a poor start but caught Stanley and Dakin at the 75 yard mark, winning by about a yard with Dakin second and Stanley third. Time 10 3-5 secs.

In the meantime the pole vault was being contested. First place in this went to MacKenzie, a new man this year at McGill and hailing from Charlottetown, P. E. I., the place where they grow pole vaulters. Smith and Robinson tied for second place, Smith getting the decision on the jump-off. Smith seems to be a little too heavy this year and with another week's training may do better in the Intercollegiate. Height of MacKenzie's jump was 9 ft. 4 inches.

The half mile was won handily by Logan, a returned Rhodes scholar and old McGill track man. Walsh made a good race during the first lap, but Logan proved too fast and he had to drop back to third place. White, a Freshman, cornering second. The time 2:01 was good considering the rather heavy track and Logan certainly will help greatly to strengthen the team as the half has been the weak point during the season.

Three entries in the mile race, the wet turf made the race very difficult. MacDougall was the lead which he retained until the stretch was reached, when Stanley came strong and passed him winning by eight yards. Dakin slowing down slightly just before the finish. Fraser was about 7 yards behind Dakin. All three ran a good race. Fraser was handicapped very much in this race by having the outside track and being compelled to run high up the bank practically all the way around the turn, thus cutting down his chances considerably.

Stanley, Dakin, Fraser and Hollinshead should make a relay team that will take some going to beat. Dowie once more shone in the broad jump, doing 20 ft. 11 1/2 inches. Second and third went to Risteen and McIntyre with jumps of 19 ft. 1/2 in. and 17 ft. 8 inches respectively.

Another record was annihilated by Big Mac in the shot, his throw being 38 ft. 7 1/2 in. Dakin scored 32 ft. 2 inches. McIntosh third, 31 ft. 5 in.

DUKE TO WITNESS GAME

H.R.H. TO SEE DOMINION CHAMPIONS PLAYS OTTAWA COLLEGE

His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught will get his first glimpse of Canadian Football on Saturday next when he will witness the struggle between Toronto and Ottawa College at the Varsity oval, Ottawa. A special box will be arranged for the Duke and Vice Regal party. It will be a novel experience for the new Governor-General and will demonstrate to him that Canada is just as keen on sport as the Mother Country. It seems quite fitting that the Duke's first appearance should be at a game where he may see in action, the Dominion Champions.

ALL UP TO THE BIG GAME. — DON'T FORGET YOUR COLORS.

To-day the English Rugby team are playing the Harlequins at Montreal West. This match is of special interest, as McGill and the Harlequins have won all their matches this season, both teams having defeated Montreal and the C.P.R. In these two matches McGill have succeeded in keeping their opponents from crossing their line once, and they have a total score of 22 points to their credit. The Harlequins have not done so well as this against the same teams so it looks well for to-day's match.

During the week the team have been out three times. Scrimmaging practice has been indulged in to a considerable extent at these practices. The formation has been changed from Three-two-three to two-three-two, and it is expected that this will give the 'outsides' more chances than they have had up to the present. On Thanksgiving morning a match is to be played on the Campus against Montreal.

An occasion of considerable interest to the public in general, and the newspaper world in particular took place when the corner stone was laid of the new building of the Montreal Herald. The particular significance of this occasion lies in the fact that it is just a hundred years since this great daily came into existence.

The function was attended by a good sized representative audience. The main address was rendered by Mr. J. B. Brierley, President of the Herald Company, who gave a short history of his paper. This was followed by speeches from Mayor Guerin, Bishop Farthing, Principal Peterson, Senator Dandurand and the Hon. Charles J. Doherty, the new Minister of Justice in the Borden Cabinet. The Daily wishes to take this opportunity to congratulate its esteemed contemporary and 'Big Brother,' and looks forward to the time when the Herald will be congratulating us on attaining our centenary.

The game will commence at 10, and is sure to be witnessed by a large number of students as R. M. C. is always very popular.

AT THE THEATRES

FRANCIS WILSON AT HIS MAJESTY'S

"As clean as a crystal spring; as wholesome as wheat and as merry as a marriage bell" is the manner that one of the foremost critics summed up the good points of "The Bachelor's Baby," the comedy-farce which Francis Wilson author for Francis Wilson comedian and which Francis Wilson comedian has been presenting for the past two seasons to delighted audiences everywhere. While Mr. Wilson had his "laughs" in view in the writing of the play and while there is much of the farcical in the three acts of "The Bachelor's Baby," there are moments when the comedy is said to be of the purest kind. This is said to be particularly noticeable at the end of the second act where the curtain goes down on a scene that any author might be proud of. Mr. Wilson wrote "The Bachelor's Baby" primarily as a laughing vehicle, and talented specimen of childhood playing opposite him that the stage has seen in a very long time. Mr. Wilson has written "The Bachelor's Baby" in three acts, and briefly sketched the play tells the story of how a child-hating bachelor was forced to change his mind on every point regarding children. At the beginning of the play Thomas Beach (Francis Wilson) is returning from a week-end's visit where his life has been made particularly miserable by a small boy. Hardly has he reached his home before the family lawyer informs him that by the will of a dead brother he has been left the guardian of the latter's little daughter. Naturally the bachelor rebels and even goes so far as to refuse to see the little one. But fate, stronger than a man's will, practically throws her in to his house and the baby mistakes her uncle for her dead father. Early in the second act Beach is still adamant on the question of the child, although she is still in his house, but a little later the two are brought together and the little girl soon finds out of her uncle's heart the big un-

Merriam and others. Charles Frohman will present Francis Wilson in "The Bachelor's Baby," at the His Majesty's Theatre on Monday evening for an engagement of one week. But one matinee be given, on Saturday.

MISS ALICE LLOYD

SPECIAL INTERVIEW BY THE MCGILL DAILY.

Through the kindness of Miss Lloyd and the management of the "Orpheum" our bashful interviewer, was able to obtain a special interview for the "McGill Daily." Asked if she had heard of the "McGill Daily" Miss Lloyd explained that she had seen a notice of the first copy in the London "Times"; and would be only too pleased to say anything that would be of interest to the many readers.

Asked if this was her first visit to Montreal, Miss Lloyd said she had been here three times before. "But Montreal is the first of many towns I shall visit on my present tour. Something of my life on the stage? Well my journey to the top of the ladder of stage fame has been a long and tiring one. Just hard work day by day has given me my present position in the theatrical world. But I feel more repaid for my work by the kindly receptions to me wherever I play.

My first appearance was at the "Forester's Music Hall" in London where I performed with my sister, and I am pleased to say our performance was a great success. After a tour of the provincial towns in England my sister and I started in "Pantomime" at the Theatre Royal, Portsmouth. Here the management very kindly gave us a benefit. After that I continued to play in pantomime each season, seven of these seasons being under the same management in London.

I was then engaged for two seasons at the Borough Theatre, Stratford, to play in Pantomime.

During the run of "Cinderella" I won a prize, offered by a prominent English newspaper to the most popular "Principal Girl" playing pantomime in Great Britain; the winner to be decided by public vote.

After my pantomime engagements, was booked for the Moss and Stoll tour. Whilst on this tour I was booked for a six weeks engagement the following season to appear in this country.

I sailed from England in February and on the 24th of the month appeared at the Colonial Theatre, New York.

You ask if it was a successful appearance? Well, I leave that for you to judge for yourself, but I think you will agree that it was when I tell you that, after expiration of that but with all the laugh he has woven selfishness which has lain there dormant for so many years, and they being, for there is just pathos enough to bring out in stronger relief the merry passages. The unexpected is always happening in "The Bachelor's Baby" and Mr. Francis Wilson has written it with bright, clever epigrams. It does the best work of his entire career. Not only does the part of the bachelor child-hater suit him to a nicety, but he extracts every possible bit of fun out of his lines and his situations.

All of his mannerisms and his amusing ways are in evidence and there is still the same merry twinkle in his eyes and the softness in his voice that have made him the most popular comedian on the stage at the present time. But, it is said that the honors Eleanor Barry, Alma, Chester, Louis and not fall to Francis Wilson for Masse, Richard Gordon, Thomas Tracy, E. Soldene Powell, Harold six weeks contract, I was rebooked for another twenty weeks at six times the amount, by the same management.

And it was during this engagement that I appeared in most of the principal towns in Canada and United States.

Yes, I have been in this country ever since I came over in 1906 working all the time in different cities every week except for a short holiday of six weeks in England.

I am awfully fond of America and feel much happier here than I do in England, which perhaps seems a funny thing to say, seeing that I was born in England, but it is exactly how I feel.

During my short holiday in England last summer I felt all the time that I would like to get back to America, and I was not happy until I had set sail for New York again.

What are my recreations? Well when I have time for recreation I generally go riding or motoring. I won a motor boat race on the Niagara River once driving a 100 H. P. racing boat at about 30 miles per hour and I think I am the only lady who has done this.

I certainly wish your paper every success for the future and it has been a great pleasure to me to be able to help it along in any way.

quite satisfied that he had met the only girl in the world for him. And to Miss Alice Lloyd, the brightest star of the stage, McGill says "Au Revoir" and God speed and waits in expectation for her return to McGill City.

ROYAL THEATRE

THE "CHERRY BLOSSOMS"

The prettiest bouquet of beauties enroute this season are the "Cherry Blossoms" the attraction at The Royal next week. Wildly funny are Jack Perry's two new burlesques—"What Happened to McGuirk" and "Widow McCarthy's Boarders." Competing for favor are a bunch of the cleverest comedians in the business.

PRINCESS THEATRE

Well, "POMANDER WALK" is coming back to us. Louis N. Parker's comedy of happiness, disclosed here for the first time in the world last December and the recipient of many critical bouquets tossed in its initial rocky path, went from Montreal to New York, and captured the big American metropolis by storm. Later it captured London as well, in the production made for that City by Cyril Maude. Long and anxious were the forebodings of every one concerned here over the question of success or failure. But the big world placed its approval on the judgment of the discriminating critics here, and in the world Capitals it became the favorite of social circles and of all who enjoy wholesome, mirthful, clean-hearted fun.

"POMANDER WALK" is a play-titled first to puzzle and then the enchant. It suggests the far off quaintness and romance of old London byways, the loves and the oddities of an early time. And through this "POMANDER WALK" or crescent of six little houses back in 1805, in which the scene of the story is located, runs a delightful thread of honor, not broad and rib-racking, but refined and artistic. As some one has said, it seems as if the characters in Jane Austen's novels had come to life. To others the favorite comparison is with Dickens or Thackeray. In the three acts of the play we get to know these quaint folk as well as we know our own neighbors and follow with the keenest interest the unfolding of their queer courtships.

Surely George Giddens will be welcomed back to the Princess Theatre in the role of Admiral Sir Peter Antrobous, the Cock of the Walk. So will Lennox Pawle, as the pompous exhibitor, Jerome Brooke-Hoskyn, Esq., masquerading as a gentleman. The world that loves all over will want to see again Edgar Kent as the gallant Jack Sayle and Dorothy Parker as the bewitching Marioline. Among the others in this exceptional cast, all of whom have delighted metropolitan audiences for eight months past are Reginald Dance, T. Wigney Percyval, Stanley Lathbury, Leslie M. Hunt, Cynthia Brooke, Maud Milton, Marie Burke, Kate Phillips and Winifred Fraser.

It is only a short return visit that the "POMANDER WALK" Company is about to make to the birth place of the comedy. They will open their engagement at the Princess Monday evening and will also be seen there Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights and Wednesday matinee. Probably many theatre parties will be organized to attend this most charming work from Louis N. Parker's pen.

As a matinee play it is ideal and the popular prices at next Wednesday's matinee will no doubt attract a large throng of eager women-folk. From Montreal the Company goes direct to Boston to play Liebler's Co's. new house. The Plymouth Theatre, in that City and for their second season their work will be confined to the large cities. Incidentally, it may be remarked, there is no second Company in "POMANDER WALK".

Manager George Tyler believes that duplicating it with inferior actors would destroy its artistic charm. The cast announced for Montreal is the original one.

terfly flits out of the wings until the flying ballet arises in a glory of shifting colored lights all in action back of the stage. The audience sees the ballet girls floating gracefully through the air, and sixty snow white doves which flutter about them. Up on the "gridiron" ninety feet above the stage level, four men are kept busy sliding pulleys and carefully adjusting the clock in the hundred tiny wires which support the dancers. In the wings eight men haul away at cables which raise and lower the dancers which cause them to fly back and forth. The working crew begin to cut through the fire wall of the stage Saturday night, boring holes through which many wire are permitted to go, his being done to enable several of the butterfly to fly out over the heads of the audience. This act will prove one of the greatest attractions that the Montreal Public have seen in many years, probably never. Miss Nellie V. Nichols will hold the important and difficult position of second to closing the bill, and is sure to be a big hit in this spot. Miss Nichols has for the past two seasons been creating a great reputation for herself by her dainty dancing and splendid singing. J. C. Nugent and Co., will offer Mr. Nugent's greatest oddity, "The Square"; Merrill and Otto will present their dainty and pleasing little operatti, in once act, "After the Shower"; Jarrow, who has just returned from a years engagement in London, at the Hippodrome, will offer his comedy Trick act; McConnell and Simpson will present the American Satire, entitled "A Stormy Hour" which is filled to the brim with laughing situations and Sylvester will chair throwing; act; ley's will be seen in graph novelty.
